EMORY EXECUTIVE EDUCATION
CERTIFICATES

LESSONS THAT TAKE YOU FAR BEYOND “BOOK SMART”.

Each certificate in our portfolio will put you in real-world situations, expose you to current business thinking and empower you to meaningfully contribute to the success of your organization in new ways.

Every leader knows a key to leadership is being open to continued learning and growth. The best in business know when it's time to level up and build on what already exist to become even better. Leadership is not just a quality you're born with, but it's also a skill that can be developed and honed over time. Invest in yourself and your development as a leader, and earn a certificate that will benefit you on this journey of life-long learning and growth.

ROBERTO C. GOIZUETA LEADERSHIP CERTIFICATE

Strong leaders have insights into their own strengths and a keen ability to inspire others. As the former Chairman, Director and CEO of Coca-Cola, Roberto C. Goizueta knew what it took to lead: collaboration, efficiency, and determination. Emory Executive Education's Roberto C. Goizueta Leadership Certificate will expand your ability to inspire and lead top-performing individuals and teams. Designed for executives, team managers and leaders in organizations of all sizes, this program will help you better navigate the intricacies of a complex organization, think from an organizational perspective instead of a functional one and increase your resilience as a leader.

Benefits

- Lead and inspire your organization to grow.
- Understand how to identify and solve complex business problems.
- Build tools and approaches to make the best decisions.
- Lead yourself and your team to success.
- Translate your organization's vision into reality.

Featured Faculty

Molly Epstein - Professor in the Practice of Organization and Management

Molly Epstein brings her expertise on change communication and intergenerational communication to bear in the negotiations and communications courses she teaches. Her grounding in business and language helps students speak the language of business confidently. Molly is known for her work in gender communication and consults regularly with Delta Air Lines. As Scholar-in-Residence at the Southeast's fourth largest public accounting firm, she manages personnel development for its 1,000+ professionals. This expands her understanding of current challenges and opportunities facing today's executives.

Peter Topping - Professor in the Practice of Organization & Management

Peter's expertise spans leadership, organizational change, human capital strategy, and management, leading high-performance teams, cross-cultural leadership, negotiations, and conflict management. His courses include insights from working with organizational clients across industries, national boundaries, firm sizes, and sectors. As a consultant and executive coach, he understands the challenges facing today's leading executives and offers practical knowledge that takes leadership to the next level.

"As an in-demand business leader, Jeremy expanded his strategic knowledge at an accelerated pace through the Strategy & Innovation Certificate. "Get in, get the information, and then go out and execute that. It is something that I would recommend to other working professionals. The value is there for sure, and the name Emory that goes along with the certificate also is there... to me, that's another value add to having that kind of certificate."

Jeremy Cadeau, General Manager, Advanced Drainage Systems
